

BEAR SCARE IN JERSEY NOW OVER

After Escaping from Jersey City He Was Caught at Harrison by a Constable and a Hotel Man After a Battle.

WAS FEASTING ON BLOODED CHICKENS.

Officer Had a Hunk Bitten Out of His Arm, but that Didn't Keep Him from Capturing and Holding the Animal.

The big black bear which deserted Bartell's select boarding-house for wild animals on Communipaw avenue, Jersey City, yesterday was captured to-day by Tom McGovern, a hotel-keeper, in Harrison, N. J., and 'Lije Downing, one of the town constables.

Bruin had devoured a dozen of Mr. McGovern's fine Dominique chickens and was starting on the brown Leghorns when Night Watchman Downing, who was on his way home, heard the noise and called McGovern. They found the bear on the lee side of the henhouse making a merry feast.

He would finish one chicken and then reach in through the square port-hole and secure another. After his long chases over the Hackensack and Passaic rivers, across the Hackensack meadows, dodging a horde of pursuers and going without his customary food, the bear was savage to-day and showed resentment when he was interrupted in his feathered breakfast.

"Did you have much trouble in getting him?" Mr. McGovern was asked over the long-distance telephone from The Evening World office.

"Did we?" he replied. "Well, you just ask 'Lije Downing. He's to home with both arms in a sling. The bear certainly did treat 'Lije scandalous."

"After we'd got a lot of chains and ropes and my ten-bore shotgun we started for the hen house. And just as we-but, say I don't want nothing printed about this bear here. I'm going to keep the bear here till Sunday or so and then I can show the owners with a board bill; but if you print it now the owners'll come out, and there won't be no board bill worth mentioning. I've think I could get 50 cents a day for his keep."

"Possibly."

"Say, I've got a notion to make out a bill for $300 for capturing the pesky brute, and 'Lije wants doctors' bills. Would that be legal?"

"Possibly. But how did you get him?"

"Well, as we reached the big black bear he set up on his haunches and sort of dared 'Lije to tackle him, his face covered with the feathers of them fine Dominique chickens. 'Lije was made night watch 'cause he wouldn't take a date, and he just sailed into the bear. The bear wrapped his arms about 'Lije and took a chunk out of his arm, as a sort of change of diet. 'Lije yelled, and I threw a chain around the bear's head and pulled the nose ring. While the bear was a-hungry 'Lije fastened the other end of the chain to a tree stump, and then with the butt of my shotgun I beat the bear's arms so hard that he plumped his arms and tackled me. Both of us cleared away, and there Mr. Bear was, securely fastened."

"When we got 'Lije to his home I come back and with a friend of mine we dragged the bear to the cellar, so nobody would see him. Do you think I ought to charge 'em $300 for capturing the bear?"

Mr. McGovern was very anxious that nothing should be printed about the capture of the bear, and the incident prompted the police station officials to say that they knew nothing about it. He insists that this is the first time anything has happened in Harrison in years by which a little outside money might be brought into the community. He does not propose to miss the opportunity.

Men from Bartell's farm started for Harrison, saying they would take the bear away from the hotel keeper if they had to burn the house off of the cellar.

Whether or not the Society of Psychological Research will look into the remarkable conduct of James McDermott's dog, the fact still remains that Nancy's actions were very strange. By some it will be accounted an exhibition of telepathy.

Nancy is owned by James McDermott, who lives on the second floor of No. 221 East Ninety-third street. On the fifth floor lived Christian Elmer, an old man, with whom the dog was a great favorite. Mrs. Elmer went downtown yesterday morning to pay the premium on the life insurance her husband held, leaving the old man alone.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock Nancy began to get uneasy. Then she broke out into a howl and continued to whine and howl until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Elmer returned. Elsie Spoehr, her niece, who lives at No. 247 East Ninety-fourth street, was waiting for her.

Miss Spoehr had been there some time, but was unable to gain admittance to the apartment. Both went into the McDermott apartment, and as soon as the dog caught sight of Mrs. Elmer she at once ceased her howling and gave signs of delight.

Entrance was effected by Miss Spoehr to the Elmer apartment by way of the fire-escape. She admitted Mrs. Elmer, and when the two searched the apartment they found the old man lying dead with a bullet wound in his head. Dr. Lawrence, of the Harlem Hospital, was called. He said Elmer must have shot himself between 12 and 1 o'clock, or just at about the time when Nancy the dog started in to howl and whine.

No one heard the shot fired and no one knew of the old man's death before 5 o'clock, so that the action of the dog is very puzzling.

"Did you have much trouble in getting him?" Mr. McGovern was asked over the long-distance telephone from The Evening World office.

"Did we?" he replied. "Well, you just ask 'Lije Downing. He's to home with both arms in a sling. The bear certainly did treat 'Lije scandalous."

"After we'd got a lot of chains and ropes and my ten-bore shotgun we started for the hen house. And just as we-but, say I don't want nothing printed about this bear here. I'm going to keep the bear here till Sunday or so and then I can show the owners with a board bill; but if you print it now the owners'll come out, and there won't be no board bill worth mentioning. I've think I could get 50 cents a day for his keep."

"Possibly."

"Say, I've got a notion to make out a bill for $300 for capturing the pesky brute, and 'Lije wants doctors' bills. Would that be legal?"

"Possibly. But how did you get him?"

"Well, as we reached the big black bear he set up on his haunches and sort of dared 'Lije to tackle him, his face covered with the feathers of them fine Dominique chickens. 'Lije was made night watch 'cause he wouldn't take a date, and he just sailed into the bear. The bear wrapped his arms about 'Lije and took a chunk out of his arm, as a sort of change of diet. 'Lije yelled, and I threw a chain around the bear's head and pulled the nose ring. While the bear was a-hungry 'Lije fastened the other end of the chain to a tree stump, and then with the butt of my shotgun I beat the bear's arms so hard that he plumped his arms and tackled me. Both of us cleared away, and there Mr. Bear was, securely fastened."

"When we got 'Lije to his home I come back and with a friend of mine we dragged the bear to the cellar, so nobody would see him. Do you think I ought to charge 'em $300 for capturing the bear?"

Mr. McGovern was very anxious that nothing should be printed about the capture of the bear, and the incident prompted the police station officials to say that they knew nothing about it. He insists that this is the first time anything has happened in Harrison in years by which a little outside money might be brought into the community. He does not propose to miss the opportunity.

Men from Bartell's farm started for Harrison, saying they would take the bear away from the hotel keeper if they had to burn the house off of the cellar.

TWO KILLED IN CRASH OF TRAINS

One of the Victims, a Government Inspector, Was Looking for Smuggled Chinamen in Car When He Met Death.

MALONE, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Two men were killed and four injured in a head-on collision between freight trains on the Rutland Railroad at Rouse's Point early to-day. One of the dead is United States Chinese Inspector Joseph Wright, of Port Henry, N. Y. The other is James Hodges, of Malone.

The wreck it attributed to the slippery condition of the rails, due to a freezing rainstorm which passed over this section during the night. Two freight trains were descending a steep grade on their way to Albany, when the forward one met with a slight accident and was obliged to slow up.

The second freight, could not be stopped on account of the condition of the rails and crashed into the rear of the first train at the platform of Rouse's Point station, where the Rutland road meets the Delaware & Hudson.

Broken freight cars were piled up and the station platform was demolished. Wright, who was standing on the platform at the time, was buried in the wreckage. It was not known that he had been caught in the collision until after daylight, when his body was found.

He had boarded the train to search for smuggled Chinamen thought to be hidden in baggage cars.

Fred Mitchell, of Burke, N. Y., was taking a carload of potatoes to Boston and was so seriously injured that he will die. Freeman E. C. Lawrence, of Bangor, N. Y., has a leg broken in two places and is in a precarious condition, while two others were more or less injured.

One of the firemen and the two engineers escaped by jumping.

Traffic on the line was blocked the greater part of the day.

PET DOG HOWLED AS OLD MAN DIED

While Christian Elmer's Wife Went Out to Pay His Life Insurance Premium He Blew Out His Brains.

DOG A FAVORITE OF VICTIM.

Although in an Apartment Three Floors Below the Chamber of Death the Animal Began to Whine When Man Killed Himself.

Whether or not the Society of Psychological Research will look into the remarkable conduct of James McDermott's dog, the fact still remains that Nancy's actions were very strange. By some it will be accounted an exhibition of telepathy.

Nancy is owned by James McDermott, who lives on the second floor of No. 221 East Ninety-third street. On the fifth floor lived Christian Elmer, an old man, with whom the dog was a great favorite. Mrs. Elmer went downtown yesterday morning to pay the premium on the life insurance her husband held, leaving the old man alone.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock Nancy began to get uneasy. Then she broke out into a howl and continued to whine and howl until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Elmer returned. Elsie Spoehr, her niece, who lives at No. 247 East Ninety-fourth street, was waiting for her.

Miss Spoehr had been there some time, but was unable to gain admittance to the apartment. Both went into the McDermott apartment, and as soon as the dog caught sight of Mrs. Elmer she at once ceased her howling and gave signs of delight.

Entrance was effected by Miss Spoehr to the Elmer apartment by way of the fire-escape. She admitted Mrs. Elmer, and when the two searched the apartment they found the old man lying dead with a bullet wound in his head. Dr. Lawrence, of the Harlem Hospital, was called. He said Elmer must have shot himself between 12 and 1 o'clock, or just at about the time when Nancy the dog started in to howl and whine.

No one heard the shot fired and no one knew of the old man's death before 5 o'clock, so that the action of the dog is very puzzling.

"Did you have much trouble in getting him?" Mr. McGovern was asked over the long-distance telephone from The Evening World office.

"Did we?" he replied. "Well, you just ask 'Lije Downing. He's to home with both arms in a sling. The bear certainly did treat 'Lije scandalous."

"After we'd got a lot of chains and ropes and my ten-bore shotgun we started for the hen house. And just as we-but, say I don't want nothing printed about this bear here. I'm going to keep the bear here till Sunday or so and then I can show the owners with a board bill; but if you print it now the owners'll come out, and there won't be no board bill worth mentioning. I've think I could get 50 cents a day for his keep."

"Possibly."

"Say, I've got a notion to make out a bill for $300 for capturing the pesky brute, and 'Lije wants doctors' bills. Would that be legal?"

"Possibly. But how did you get him?"

"Well, as we reached the big black bear he set up on his haunches and sort of dared 'Lije to tackle him, his face covered with the feathers of them fine Dominique chickens. 'Lije was made night watch 'cause he wouldn't take a date, and he just sailed into the bear. The bear wrapped his arms about 'Lije and took a chunk out of his arm, as a sort of change of diet. 'Lije yelled, and I threw a chain around the bear's head and pulled the nose ring. While the bear was a-hungry 'Lije fastened the other end of the chain to a tree stump, and then with the butt of my shotgun I beat the bear's arms so hard that he plumped his arms and tackled me. Both of us cleared away, and there Mr. Bear was, securely fastened."

"When we got 'Lije to his home I come back and with a friend of mine we dragged the bear to the cellar, so nobody would see him. Do you think I ought to charge 'em $300 for capturing the bear?"

Mr. McGovern was very anxious that nothing should be printed about the capture of the bear, and the incident prompted the police station officials to say that they knew nothing about it. He insists that this is the first time anything has happened in Harrison in years by which a little outside money might be brought into the community. He does not propose to miss the opportunity.

Men from Bartell's farm started for Harrison, saying they would take the bear away from the hotel keeper if they had to burn the house off of the cellar.

Whether or not the Society of Psychological Research will look into the remarkable conduct of James McDermott's dog, the fact still remains that Nancy's actions were very strange. By some it will be accounted an exhibition of telepathy.

Nancy is owned by James McDermott, who lives on the second floor of No. 221 East Ninety-third street. On the fifth floor lived Christian Elmer, an old man, with whom the dog was a great favorite. Mrs. Elmer went downtown yesterday morning to pay the premium on the life insurance her husband held, leaving the old man alone.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock Nancy began to get uneasy. Then she broke out into a howl and continued to whine and howl until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Elmer returned. Elsie Spoehr, her niece, who lives at No. 247 East Ninety-fourth street, was waiting for her.

Miss Spoehr had been there some time, but was unable to gain admittance to the apartment. Both went into the McDermott apartment, and as soon as the dog caught sight of Mrs. Elmer she at once ceased her howling and gave signs of delight.

Entrance was effected by Miss Spoehr to the Elmer apartment by way of the fire-escape. She admitted Mrs. Elmer, and when the two searched the apartment they found the old man lying dead with a bullet wound in his head. Dr. Lawrence, of the Harlem Hospital, was called. He said Elmer must have shot himself between 12 and 1 o'clock, or just at about the time when Nancy the dog started in to howl and whine.

No one heard the shot fired and no one knew of the old man's death before 5 o'clock, so that the action of the dog is very puzzling.

Whether or not the Society of Psychological Research will look into the remarkable conduct of James McDermott's dog, the fact still remains that Nancy's actions were very strange. By some it will be accounted an exhibition of telepathy.

Nancy is owned by James McDermott, who lives on the second floor of No. 221 East Ninety-third street. On the fifth floor lived Christian Elmer, an old man, with whom the dog was a great favorite. Mrs. Elmer went downtown yesterday morning to pay the premium on the life insurance her husband held, leaving the old man alone.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock Nancy began to get uneasy. Then she broke out into a howl and continued to whine and howl until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Elmer returned. Elsie Spoehr, her niece, who lives at No. 247 East Ninety-fourth street, was waiting for her.

Miss Spoehr had been there some time, but was unable to gain admittance to the apartment. Both went into the McDermott apartment, and as soon as the dog caught sight of Mrs. Elmer she at once ceased her howling and gave signs of delight.

Entrance was effected by Miss Spoehr to the Elmer apartment by way of the fire-escape. She admitted Mrs. Elmer, and when the two searched the apartment they found the old man lying dead with a bullet wound in his head. Dr. Lawrence, of the Harlem Hospital, was called. He said Elmer must have shot himself between 12 and 1 o'clock, or just at about the time when Nancy the dog started in to howl and whine.

No one heard the shot fired and no one knew of the old man's death before 5 o'clock, so that the action of the dog is very puzzling.

Whether or not the Society of Psychological Research will look into the remarkable conduct of James McDermott's dog, the fact still remains that Nancy's actions were very strange. By some it will be accounted an exhibition of telepathy.

Nancy is owned by James McDermott, who lives on the second floor of No. 221 East Ninety-third street. On the fifth floor lived Christian Elmer, an old man, with whom the dog was a great favorite. Mrs. Elmer went downtown yesterday morning to pay the premium on the life insurance her husband held, leaving the old man alone.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock Nancy began to get uneasy. Then she broke out into a howl and continued to whine and howl until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Elmer returned. Elsie Spoehr, her niece, who lives at No. 247 East Ninety-fourth street, was waiting for her.

Miss Spoehr had been there some time, but was unable to gain admittance to the apartment. Both went into the McDermott apartment, and as soon as the dog caught sight of Mrs. Elmer she at once ceased her howling and gave signs of delight.

Entrance was effected by Miss Spoehr to the Elmer apartment by way of the fire-escape. She admitted Mrs. Elmer, and when the two searched the apartment they found the old man lying dead with a bullet wound in his head. Dr. Lawrence, of the Harlem Hospital, was called. He said Elmer must have shot himself between 12 and 1 o'clock, or just at about the time when Nancy the dog started in to howl and whine.

No one heard the shot fired and no one knew of the old man's death before 5 o'clock, so that the action of the dog is very puzzling.

Whether or not the Society of Psychological Research will look into the remarkable conduct of James McDermott's dog, the fact still remains that Nancy's actions were very strange. By some it will be accounted an exhibition of telepathy.

Nancy is owned by James McDermott, who lives on the second floor of No. 221 East Ninety-third street. On the fifth floor lived Christian Elmer, an old man, with whom the dog was a great favorite. Mrs. Elmer went downtown yesterday morning to pay the premium on the life insurance her husband held, leaving the old man alone.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock Nancy began to get uneasy. Then she broke out into a howl and continued to whine and howl until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Elmer returned. Elsie Spoehr, her niece, who lives at No. 247 East Ninety-fourth street, was waiting for her.

Miss Spoehr had been there some time, but was unable to gain admittance to the apartment. Both went into the McDermott apartment, and as soon as the dog caught sight of Mrs. Elmer she at once ceased her howling and gave signs of delight.

Entrance was effected by Miss Spoehr to the Elmer apartment by way of the fire-escape. She admitted Mrs. Elmer, and when the two searched the apartment they found the old man lying dead with a bullet wound in his head. Dr. Lawrence, of the Harlem Hospital, was called. He said Elmer must have shot himself between 12 and 1 o'clock, or just at about the time when Nancy the dog started in to howl and whine.

No one heard the shot fired and no one knew of the old man's death before 5 o'clock, so that the action of the dog is very puzzling.

Mid-Winter "Feature" Sales Swing Jubilantly

New Neckwear for Men

At Astonishing Prices.

Presenting in This January Clearance a Choice and Faultless Assortment of Fresh Styles.

There isn't a dull or hackneyed Tie in all the whole great assembly. Every bit of Neckwear is in the latest fashion, and there is every reason to believe that the demand will be most extraordinary. Many of the Ties came from makers who had overproduced for the holiday trade. Others had miscellaneous lots to dispose of. With these we have mingled several lines that came too late for the Christmas business.

No Matter What Kind of Tie You Buy You Obtain Remarkable Value.

Choose from the following to-morrow:

At 15c MEN'S 4-IN-HANDS and TECKS; made up of good silk and satin; light and dark colors, regularly 25c. and 50c.

At 25c MEN'S 4-IN-HANDS, ENGLISH SQUARES and TECKS; fine quality silks; great variety of assortments; regularly 50c. to $1.00.

At 50c MEN'S 4-IN-HANDS, ENGLISH SQUARES, PUFFS and TECKS; made of finest imported silks and satins; regularly $1.00 and $2.00.

(Main Floor, 18th St. Entrance.)

Women's Tailored Suits.

Remarkable Price-Reductions Friday.

Suits that regularly sell for $27.50 to $59.50 go on sale to-morrow

At 19.50 and 25.00.

Made of Broadcloth, Cheviots, Zibelines, Tweeds, Voiles and Velvets. This season's most desirable styles in the long-skirted blouse or straight jacket models; walking or dress length skirt.

(Second Floor, Front.)

Shirt Waist Section.

Stopping Point for Many Shoppers.

Women's Wash Waists at about half their usual price.

In a few words this tells why so many are taking advantage of the unusual offerings. The Waists made of the popular Madras or Momie Cloth and in the newest styles.

Also exceptional values in Madras and Albatross Waists at very special prices.

Women's Wash Waists.

Made of Madras or Momie Cloth, plain white or white ground with neat black figures, box-plaited front and back, large pearl buttons down front of waist, fancy stock collar, full bishop sleeve; regularly $1.50.

Women's Madras Waists.

Made of heavy quality Cheviot or Madras in plain white, black and white. Shepherd Check and plain colors; bow and side plaited style; others in strictly tailor-made effects; stock collar; full sleeves; $2.00 to $3.95 grades at special prices.

Women's Albatross Waists.

Of excellent quality all-wool Albatross, in white, black and all colors, including evening shades; the entire waist is box-plaited, with military strap on shoulder and stock collar of self-color Taffeta Silk; very special at

(Second Floor, Front.)

Decisive Leather Goods Clearance.

Important Stock-Adjusting Movement Which Creates Many Choice Bargains.

The Leather Goods Store on the Main Floor is setting things in shipshape order preparatory to the usual stock taking event. This means that numerous lines will be sold at decided sacrifices in price.

Everything is new, stylish and eminently desirable. We cut the prices to the lowest level simply because in most instances the lots are small. You gain a fair idea of the importance of this timely sale from the following:

WRIST BAGS—Walrus grain leather; black, brown, tan or gray; nicely lined in black, gray, tan or gray; leather handles; choice of nickel or gilt frames. 15c

WRIST BAGS—Walrus grain leather; black, brown, tan or gray; lined with gray fabric, inside coin purse for change; nickel or gilt frames; leather handles; two styles at these special prices. 35c and 45c

WALRUS GRAIN WRIST BAGS; black, brown, tan or gray; containing purse for change; nickel or gilt frames; leather handles; large size bag, 7-inch frame, 85c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

WOMEN'S BELTS of black taffeta and other desirable fabrics, the newest styles, including many beaded belts, in black, brown and blue; your choice of 35c

Fancy Baskets

Reduced to Clear.

Just one lot, comprising Handkerchief Baskets and Cloves Baskets and some others, that regularly sold up to 75c. We need the room they occupy, and so price them at

10c (Assortment.)

Smyrna Rugs.

Bargains in Drapped Patterns.

Best designs and colorings represented. Economical buyers could meet with more opportune values.

26x54 30x60 36x72

85c 1.05 1.35 (Fifth Floor, Front.)

Sample Fur Mats

Reduced for Rapid Clearance

Choice of red, green or yellow. Made to sell at 90c; reduced to

Also these specials in Baby Carriage Robes and Fur Rugs:

1.95 for Unlined Baby Carriage Robes, pure white.

2.75 for Sheepskin Rugs that regularly cost $4.25.

3.90 for $6.00 Combination Fur Rugs. (Fifth Floor, Front.)

Women's Coats.

More Astonishing Offerings from the Lively January Clearance Sale.

Such splendid savings naturally appeal powerfully to the discriminating shopper.

The coats are all in this season's newest models of Kersey, Montagnac, Cheviot, Zibelines and Tweeds. They are in full length,

3/4 and jacket styles.

$8.90 Coats of Zibeline and Kersey at 5.00

$10.00 Military Kersey Coats at 7.90

$15.00 Semi-fitted and Corset Coats at 9.75

$17.50 Triple Cape Kersey Coats at 11.75

$10.00 Full Length Fancy Tweed Coats at 7.50

$31.50 Silk Velour Skirted Blouse Coats at 21.50

(Second Floor, Front.)

"Double Value" Shoe Sale

Wintry Weather. That means good, warm footwear is necessary for the preservation of health. The "Double Value" Shoe Sale offers a multitude of extra good bargains for men, women and children.

Half the Regular Prices Prevail.

Men's $3.50 and $4.00 Shoes at $1.95

Undoubtedly the largest and best assortments of Men's Shoes that we have ever offered at this very low price. Included are calfskin shoes with welted soles and leather lining; eminently suitable for hard winter wear; also kidskin shoes and several styles of patent leathers in all sizes.

In the lots that go on sale at 8.30 to-morrow morning are 207 pairs of Shoes bearing the trade-mark of

W. L. Douglas.

All go on sale at, per pair, 1.95

Leather Albums.

CELLULOID ALBUMS, left over holiday week, the prices are cut down to close them out. Formerly sold at $2.50 and $2.00, many beautiful designs to select from; all have plain backs; various colors; your choice at 1.60

WRITING TABLETS, black grain leather, with blotter, ink well, penholder, etc. 1.39

WRITING TABLETS, black grain leather, with blotter, ink well, penholder, etc. 1.65

BLACK GRAIN LEATHER and SEAL WRITING TABLETS, with blotter, ink well, penholder, paper pockets, etc., regularly $6.00.

DRESS SUIT CASES, heavy cowhide; lined with plush; leather handles; leather straps; 24 inches. 4.15

Men's Letter and Card Cases.

MEN'S LETTER and CARD CASES, of walrus grain and seal grain leather; 4 pockets; open or with tuck; choice of several sizes, at 43c

Men's Leather Bill Folds.

MEN'S LEATHER BILL FOLDS, Purse and Wallet, in grain leather; your choice of several desirable styles at 69c

Along at The Big Store.

We Give "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps.

THE BIG STORE CITY IN ITSELF

SIEGEL & COOPER

SIXTH AVE. 10th & 11th STS.

Strong "Features" for to-morrow.

News of vital interest to thousands of alert shoppers.

All over The Big Store Departments are doing extraordinary things.

Sales of special importance bloom in every section, offering exceptionally attractive, astonishing varieties of seasonable and reliable merchandise at wonderfully low prices.

When You Buy at the Big Store You Shop With Greatest Profit to Yourself.

The news for to-morrow follows in part:

Women's Eiderdown

Bath Robes & Dressing Sacques

1/3 to 1/2 Lower Than Regularly.

At 2.75 ALL WOOL EIDERDOWN ROBES, satin trimmed collar, cuffs and pockets, finished with frogs and heavy worsted girdle; regularly $3.75.

At 3.75 ALL WOOL RIPLE EIDERDOWN ROBES, superior quality, very pretty styles; regularly $6.50.

At 5.50 ALL WOOL RIPLE EIDERDOWN ROBES, handsome styles, silk embroidery trimmings, stitched satin and pretty applique.

At 7.50 ALL WOOL RIPLE EIDERDOWN ROBES, extra heavy, elaborate trimmings of handsome silk applique and embroidery; regularly $11.75 to $16.50.

At 1.75 & 2.75 DRESSING SACQUES, extra heavy eiderdown, a variety of handsome styles and colors; regularly $2.50 to $3.25 and $3.75 to $4.75 respectively.